What the Data Tells Us

Sales grew from $471K (2015) to $733K in 2017 — a 55% revenue increase in two years.

Tables generated strong sales but recorded consistent losses — a profitability red flag.

Profit improved from $62K to $93K, showing margin efficiency alongside revenue growth.

Q3–Q4 months regularly exceeded average Sales and Profit reference lines.

Phones and Chairs consistently led subcategory sales — core revenue drivers.

Reference line benchmarks enable quick identification of over- and under-performing periods.

Business Recommendations

01

Fix Loss-Making Products

Review pricing, discounts & costs for Tables to convert strong sales into actual profit.

02

Double Down on Winners

Invest in Phones & Chairs via targeted marketing and inventory planning.

03

Replicate H2 Success

Analyze Q3–Q4 strategies and apply them earlier in the year to lift H1 performance.

04

Use Benchmarks Actively

Leverage average Sales & Profit reference lines monthly to flag underperformers early.

05

Track Both Sales & Profit

Ensure revenue growth also translates to sustainable margins — not just top-line wins.

Summary & Takeaways
